

Are your collection decisions costing your company money and the valuable time you need to grow your business to the next level?

Dear Bob,

Did you know that a collection agency may be charging you an extra 25-35% to hire a law firm to complete the entire collection process? A collection agency can't file a lawsuit or pursue litigation if the need arises.

But no matter how big your company is, you can stop worrying about the time and costs involved in liquidating your unpaid account-receivables. At XYZ Company, our mission is to provide our clients with the highest returns, a competitive rate and unparalleled customer service.

Let us handle the entire collection process for you from pre-suit preparation all the way to post-judgment.

Unlike a collection agency, we are a collection law firm. This means we can help you collect your unpaid account-receivables via a voluntary payment arrangement. Or we can use involuntary means such as wage, bank and tax garnishments, execution of property, lawsuits and much more.

Plus, we work on a contingency basis so if we don't get your money, you don't pay us a fee!

You will get the personal attention you deserve.

Are you currently receiving monthly reports and being informed as things develop on your cases? With XYZ Company, you will always know the status of your unpaid accounts. Plus, you will enjoy easy access to a full legal-support staff, a Skip Trace Call Center staffed during extended hours, and an investigative team for challenging recoveries.

You will have experienced attorneys working to get you the highest liquidation rate possible on your outstanding receivables.

At XYZ Company, we pride ourselves on our ethical conduct and:

- Fully comply with all federal and state collection and privacy laws.
- Have a very consistent track record handling collection issues (ranging from a few files to large portfolios with thousands of accounts and millions of dollars in unpaid receivables).

“After dealing with several collections agencies and law firms to handle our account receivables unsuccessfully, we turned to the experts at XYZ Company. They not only got us our money but saved us over $10,000.00 in collection agency fees.”
